Unlike the older forms of occultism, such as magic and astrology, organized occultism is a modern phenomenon. Few of the various organized occult movements have existed for more than 150 years; some were formed as a belated countermovement to the Enlightenment, when people began to follow rational schools of thought. Today's occult views are based on the idea that there are events within nature, as well as within one's spiritual life, which seem mysterious and cannot be explained by science. Examples include extrasensory perceptions such as telepathy and telekinesis, and haunted places or people. Believers maintain that these phenomena stem from unknown powers that can often be accessed only by some people with special abilities.

76. We understand from the passage that adherents of occultism claim that certain people ----.

- A) have extraordinary talents that allow them to have contact with the unknown
- B) practise magic and explain events by means of astrological signs
- C) were the pioneers of the anti-Enlightenment movements in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries
- D) can tell us what places are haunted and why
- E) can teach others what extrasensory perceptions are

77. According to the passage, some of the organized occult movements in the past came into being ----.

- A) as a result of various magical and astrological practices
- B) since people in the past were seriously concerned about their extrasensory perceptions
- C) because the public was not satisfied with scientific explanations of events in nature
- D) due to the assumption that many phenomena in nature were related to man's spiritual life
- E) in reaction to the rational thinking style that characterized the Enlightenment

78. As we learn from the passage, occult practices in our time ----.

- A) are particularly widespread among people who follow rational schools of thought
- B) have mostly focused on the mysteries of telepathy and telekinesis
- C) essentially stem from the occult movements of the past
- D) are concerned with phenomena which are thought to be scientifically inexplicable
- E) seem to benefit from science in explaining natural phenomena

79. It is implied in the passage that magic and astrology ----.

- A) have failed as occult practices in explaining extrasensory perceptions
- B) are forms of occultism which can be traced back into the past
- C) lost their significance with the rise of rationalism during the Enlightenment
- D) did not exist as occult practices prior to the Enlightenment
- E) have always been used in order to communicate with unknown powers

80. It is obvious from the passage that occultism ----.

- A) contributes enormously to a more comprehensive understanding of nature
- B) has gained far more popularity in modern times than in the past
- C) is an unscientific practice that doesn't rely on rationality
- D) can fully explain the spiritual side of humanity
- E) derives a great deal from magic and astrology

The assumption that a person's attitudes determine his or her behaviour is deeply ingrained in Western thinking, and in many instances the assumption holds. However, research has shown that the relationship between attitudes and behaviour is complex. A classic study conducted during the 1930s was the first to question the link. A white professor travelled across the US with a young Chinese couple. At that time, there was quite strong prejudice against Asians, and there were no laws against racial discrimination. The three travellers stopped at over 200 hotels, motels and restaurants, and were served at all the restaurants and all but one of the hotels and motels without problem. Later, a letter was sent to all of the establishments visited, asking them whether or not they would accept a Chinese couple as guests. Of the 128 replies received, 92 per cent said they would not. In other words, these proprietors expressed attitudes that were much more prejudiced than their behaviour.

81. One understands from the passage that the link between attitudes and behaviour ----.

- A) had already been established before the 1930s
- B) has always been a major topic of psychological research
- C) has aroused a great deal of controversy in the US
- D) is an area which has been neglected and, indeed, deserves fresh study
- E) is not so definite as has been generally assumed

82. As one concludes from the passage, racial discrimination ----.

- A) is the way whereby the relationship between attitudes and behaviour can best be assessed
- B) has always been a major issue in the US and cannot be eradicated
- C) was a problem of the 1930s in the US, but has now disappeared altogether
- D) in the US and the rest of the world can be fought most effectively through legislation
- E) was not practised by a great majority of the proprietors visited by the professor and his Chinese companions

83. It is pointed out in the passage that, during their travels, the professor and the Chinese couple ----.

- A) were often harassed by the proprietors
- B) were doing research to find out whether a person's behaviour affects his or her attitudes
- C) encountered discriminatory behaviour only on one occasion
- D) were not upset at all by the proprietors' racist attitudes
- E) were extremely surprised by the proprietors' prejudice against them

84. The point has been made in the passage that the American people ----.

- A) have always been remarkably hospitable to Asians visiting America
- B) in the 1930s really did dislike Asians
- C) have waged war against racial discrimination since the 1930s
- D) and the Asians have always discriminated against each other
- E) always do their best to provide comfort for their guests, no matter what their racial background

85. It is clear from the passage that the replies the professor received from the proprietors to whom he sent letters ----.

- A) revealed a strong attitude of racial discrimination against the Chinese
- B) could not be regarded as an indication of prevalent racism in the US
- C) were not concerned with the interrelationship between one's attitudes and behaviour
- D) were confined only to a very small part of the US
- E) clearly showed why one's attitudes determine one's behaviour

When you stay as a guest in someone's house, you give up your anonymity. This becomes quite a challenge if you are the kind of person who cherishes independence. However, when you and your host are on the same wavelength, you can have a trip more special than money can buy. Some years ago when I went to Auckland, New Zealand, for the first time, my hosts were a couple, about my age, whom I had met while travelling in Europe. They had a full programme lined up for me. They drove me around and showed me their favourite hot springs and also the beach where a popular TV series had once been filmed. At mealtimes, they introduced me to their favourite restaurants, where I sampled cheeses from south New Zealand that don't get exported, and fruits grown locally. Normally such a tight schedule would make me nervous, but I found myself happily relinquishing control to my hosts, who truly understood the pleasures of their native country and enjoyed sharing them. - C) was frustrated with the programme prepared for him by his hosts
- D) was particularly attracted by the location of a popular TV series
- E) did not have enough money to see the other parts of the country outside Auckland

- C) to follow a full programme on his travels
- D) to see his travels as a challenge
- E) to travel in a relaxed and leisurely way

In Finland now, everything is all right. Fifteen years after one of the worst recessions any European country has seen, triggered by the collapse of the Soviet Union, the Finns feel very content. Their small country of a population of 5 million is the first in the World Economic Forum's list of the world's most competitive countries, and the second in its business-competitiveness index. It is also the first in the OECD's world ranking of educational performance and has the second-highest share of research-and-development spending in the European Union. Moreover, the country is reversing its demographic decline and, hence, its fertility rate is one of the highest in Europe. Perhaps best of all the Finns are facing globalization without paranoia. There is one of the few European countries to have succeeded in businesses in which international prices are falling because of global competition and technological change. In most of Europe public opinion and even business élites seem gloomily resigned to being overwhelmed by India and China. Finland suggests that this fate is not inevitable.

- C) it also ranks very high in education
- D) it remains in a deep recession
- E) its businesses are not globally competitive

- A) was caused by the collapse of the Soviet Union
- B) had no effect on the country's standing in the World Economic Forum
- C) caused the country to spend more on research and development
- D) improved dramatically fifteen years ago
- E) became stronger after it began to reverse its demographic decline

93. We understand from the passage that Finland's population ----.

- A) resents outside interference in its economy
- B) is becoming one of the highest in Europe
- C) is an extremely competitive one when it comes to internal trade
- D) is now increasing due to a higher birth rate
- E) is not well-educated by European standards

94. We see from the passage that Finland's economy ----.

- A) is by far the strongest in the world
- B) remains unaffected by technological change
- C) is still undergoing the effects of the fall of the Soviet Union
- D) has had a direct effect on its fertility rate
- E) hasn't always been stable

95. According to the passage, one indicator of Finland's economic success is its ----.

Until the giant American energy company Enron collapsed, and its director Kenneth Lay was imprisoned, his life had been a model of the American dream of rising from rags to riches on the strength of merit and hard work. His beginnings were socially and financially very modest. He was born in Tyrone, Missouri, in 1942, as the son of a preacher who was also a part-time salesman. He helped his father make ends meet by cutting grass and delivering papers. His start in the energy industry seemed similarly modest. After obtaining a doctoral degree in economics from the University of Houston, he got his start in the booming Texan oil industry. In 1985 he merged Houston Natural Gas with InterNorth of Nebraska in order to form Enron. As Enron became stronger, Mr Lay turned increasingly to politics and was one of the biggest donors to the Bush-Cheney campaign. After Mr Bush entered the White House, Mr Lay had hopes of a seat in the cabinet, perhaps as energy secretary or even at the Treasury. However, for reasons that remain unclear, Mr Bush overlooked him, so his professional life ended in frustration.

96. According to the passage, after Mr Bush was elected president of the US, Kenneth Lay ----.

- A) turned increasingly to politics
- B) became involved in the Texan oil industry
- C) was not offered a cabinet seat
- D) obtained a doctoral degree from the University of Houston
- E) dissolved Enron, the company he had created

97. It is clear from the passage that the giant American energy company Enron was founded through ----.

- E) the merging of two companies: Houston Natural Gas and InterNorth

98. We understand from the passage that, when Kenneth Lay was a child, he ----.

- A) worked as a part-time salesman together with his father
- B) wanted to become a preacher like his father
- C) moved with his family from Tyrone, Missouri, to Houston, Texas
- D) contributed to his family's income by working at part-time jobs
- E) dreamed of becoming an oil tycoon

99. We can infer from the passage that Kenneth Lay expected Mr Bush to offer him a high position in his administration because Mr Lay ----.

- A) had contributed a very large amount of money to Mr Bush's presidential campaign
- B) was an important player in the Texan oil industry
- C) was frustrated with his political life
- D) had obtained a high level of education, and was therefore quite knowledgeable
- E) had become very rich through his hard work

- B) a miscarriage of justice
